With their scalpel-sharp teeth, powerful jaws, and incredible speed, sharks are some of the world's most feared predators. For almost 400 million years, these fierce creatures of the deep have been preying on fish, other sea creatures, and even human beings.

This book is designed to take readers through shark-infested pages on a quest for knowledge. Each spread is a unique look into some of the most intriguing and feared animals alive.

So, dive deep into these pages— with caution!
And if you come face to face with a Great White,
well don't say that we didn't warn you. . .
